1.1 What is Camp War Eagle?

Congratulations on your acceptance to Auburn University! You will find Auburn to be an exciting, challenging, and stimulating place during the coming years.

To help you adjust to the university, we have planned Camp War Eagle (CWE), a summer orientation program for incoming freshmen and their parents. Students who attend CWE are given priority registration for their fall semester classes. Historically, more than 95 percent of Auburn's incoming freshmen attend Camp War Eagle.

While you are at Camp War Eagle you will:

- Learn about university services and activities
- Meet academic advisors who will help you decide what classes to take
- Register for fall semester classes
- Have fun meeting other students

The Student Program is led by Auburn students working as Camp Counselors. Each freshman will be assigned to a specific Camp Counselor for the duration of CWE. Parents will meet many campus officials and be led by trained Parent Counselors.

1.2 How do I register for my fall semester classes?

One of the key components of Camp War Eagle is fall semester registration. This process includes meeting with the academic advisors in your area of study. Attending Camp War Eagle gives you priority registration over students not attending the program, and, therefore, a better selection of open classes and preferred time slots. It is not possible to register for classes until your CWE session date. Please note that seats in classes are divided equally among each CWE session, so no advantage is gained by attending an early session.

If you do not attend Camp War Eagle for any reason, you will attend a one-day, abbreviated orientation on August 15. Freshmen will not be allowed to register for the August session until after all regular CWE sessions are complete. If you do plan to register for this session, you may call our office for assistance. This session is normally designed for transfer students, but some freshmen will attend. Please note that by attending this session, you are delaying your fall semester registration until that time. It is not possible to register beforehand. Also note that you will not qualify for football ticket purchasing until you have a schedule of classes. Tickets are likely to be sold out by the date of the August session.

Auburn University requires students to complete a Financial Obligation Agreement BEFORE registering for classes. You may complete the agreement in advance by logging in to AU Access (AUthenticate) and clicking on the link under Student Records in the "My Academics" tab. You will be required to complete this only one time. Doing this in advance will save you time during your course registration process.

1.3 What if I attend summer school?

If you attend summer school at Auburn, you may choose from three terms: a mini-semester from May 18-June 24, a mini-semester from June 26-August 4, or a full semester from May 18-August 4. If you decide to attend one of the mini-semesters, plan to attend CWE at a time that does not conflict with your class schedule. If you attend both mini-semesters or the full summer term, you may still choose to attend CWE if you would like. We will help schedule you a session around your class schedule. If you plan to attend summer school at Auburn, please note this in the "Special Circumstances" box when you register. Your other option is to complete a First Year Seminar course in the fall semester. Please contact your academic advisor to initiate registration for summer school classes. Visit auburn.edu/academicadvising for a listing of advising offices.

If you will be enrolled in summer school course work at other institutions, you should schedule your CWE session so there is minimal conflict with your class schedule. If this is unavoidable, CWE is happy to provide attendance verifications for students.

Attending Camp War Eagle as a parent will give you the opportunity to see and learn about all of the opportunities and resources available to your child while at Auburn. You will get your questions answered from students and staff members themselves and have familiar faces at the university to contact if you need.

2.1 2016 Camp War Eagle Schedule

There are ten sessions of Camp War Eagle offered, but not all majors participate in all sessions. Your choice may be limited depending on the college/school in which your major resides. Please note that if you change your major after signing up for CWE, it is your responsibility to call the CWE office for the session change (if needed). If you attend CWE when your college/school is not advising, you will attend advising in a college unrelated to your major. For example, if you are an engineering major signed up to attend session 4, and you change your major to elementary education, you would need to contact the CWE office, since the College of Education is not participating in session 4. If you attend session 4, you would attend advising in the College of Engineering even though you want to major in the College of Education.

*Honors College

Honors College advising sessions will be offered during all CWE sessions. The advising sessions will provide information about the Honors College curriculum and will prepare you to select your fall semester Honors Classes. Parents are encouraged to attend.

2.2 Schedule details

As soon as you register for CWE, you will receive a confirmation e-mail in your Auburn University Tigermail account. We will also mail a confirmation packet to you and your parents and information on what to bring.

Seven CWE sessions begin on Thursday and end on Friday. Three CWE sessions begin on Monday and end on Tuesday. Student check-in on Day 1 is from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. Signs starting on College Street will direct you to the check-in site. The program concludes on Day 2 with class registration and a browse session with local Auburn businesses. This may be as early as 2:30 p.m., but usually no later than 3:30 p.m. Registration for Camp War Eagle opens March 20 at 1:00 p.m. CDT.

Check-in for parents on Day 1 begins at 7:30 a.m. The program begins at 8:30 a.m.

Registration opens March 20 at 1:00 p.m. CDT.

Sessions fill quickly so register soon.
Registration deadline is June 1.

Students who do not register for Camp War Eagle by the June 1 deadline are not guaranteed admission to the 2017 freshman class. Students who want to register after the June 1 deadline should check the Camp War Eagle website for information on space availability in the 2017 freshman class.

2.3 What will my parents do at Camp War Eagle?

CWE operates a Parent Program concurrently with the Student Program. Parents will have the opportunity to meet university administrators and faculty and become informed about academic programs, policies, facilities, and services. You and your parent(s) will attend a group advising session led by the academic advisors from your major to discuss your curriculum.

2.4 Where will we stay?

Students will stay in assigned residence halls on campus. Information on what to bring will be included in the confirmation letter. Students are not permitted to stay in locations off campus during Camp War Eagle.

Parents are responsible for their own accommodations. Parents will receive a brochure on lodging in Auburn with their student's confirmation. This brochure will provide a detailed listing of hotels and motels in the Auburn/Opelika area. Additional information is available at aotourism.com. The Hotel at Auburn University, owned and operated by Auburn, has room availability for all CWE sessions. See auhcc.com for details.

2.5 Coming in the night before?

Students who need to arrive the night before the session starts must indicate this at the time you sign up. Housing is provided on this night as well, if needed. Camp staff will be present and there will be social programming scheduled on this night. Dinner opportunities will be made available, but the meal is not provided, so be sure to bring sufficient money to eat this night.

2.6 CWE Tiger Cubs Program

CWE is also pleased to offer the Tiger Cubs Program for children ages 6-12 who attend CWE with their parents. This will be an optional fee-based service offered this summer only at Session 6 (June 22-23). Tiger Cubs programming will take place on Day 1 of Session 6 from 12:45-5:30 p.m., and on Day 2 from 8:15 a.m.-12 p.m. Additional schedule information will be provided prior to Session 6.

In addition to the fun your younger siblings would have, there are other benefits of this program. Your parents benefit and their on-campus experiences are enhanced as they are able to give their attention to their own orientation activities. You benefit by having their attention, particularly when you are together in the meeting with academic advisors. Finally, your siblings are supervised in age-appropriate activities so as not to distract from your first on-campus experiences and at the same time, they are engaged in their first "Auburn Experiences" as future Auburn Tigers.

The fee is $30 per child for the two-day session and will be billed to your account. The fee includes snacks and a T-shirt for the participant. The Tiger Cubs Program will offer a variety of activities to keep the children excited and entertained. The scheduled events (subject to change) include pictures with Aubie and Auburn Cheerleaders, a chance for the children to write letters to their older siblings, and time in our "Auburn Store."

To sign a child up for the program, please visit auburn.edu/cwe to complete the online registration form.

3.1 What does Camp War Eagle cost?

You previously submitted a $200 confirmation deposit to Auburn University. This allows you to attend Camp War Eagle. Your orientation fees will be charged to your student account. The student fee is $150, and each parent or guest is $75.

For each student, the orientation fee includes lodging in the residence halls, five meals, snacks, a CWE shirt, and other program materials. Students and parents will each be provided breakfast, lunch, and dinner on Day 1, and breakfast and lunch on Day 2. Each attendee will also receive an orientation handbook. Student housing is provided (and required), but parents are responsible for their own lodging.

3.2 What is the policy for fees?

Camp War Eagle fees are billed to your account. Please do not send money to us at this time, but pay close attention to the bills sent by Auburn.

Once you sign up for CWE, fees are charged. They are not refundable, so be very certain before you make your CWE reservations.

After you attend Camp War Eagle and register for classes, you will receive billing notification for fall semester via the Auburn University E-bill system. E-bill allows you to view and pay your bills online. No paper bills will be mailed. The first bills for fall semester will be generated in mid-July after the last Camp War Eagle session. A minimum of one-half of the tuition, housing, and meal plan charges will be due in early August. You must pay at least half of these charges to prevent schedule cancellation. A second bill will be sent in August, with a due date of early September. You are encouraged to add authorized users to your e-bill account. These users will be able to view and pay the bills on your behalf.

Camp War Eagle is designed to help make the transition from high school to college much easier. Incoming freshmen get to see Auburn in a new, exciting way, and any worries, concerns, or questions about taking that next step to college get answered.

—Caitlyn Miller, Memphis, TN (far right)

Attending Camp was an invaluable experience and some of my favorite memories date back to that time. I could not have asked for an easier transition to Auburn because all of the Camp Counselors, Parent Counselors, and staff of the First Year Experience office.

—Zehrgio Mones, Mobile, AL (center)

Camp War Eagle is the first chance new students get to be a part of the Auburn Family. You'll meet your fellow classmates, create a class schedule, and learn about the countless extracurricular activities Auburn has to offer. Coming from a small high school, I was really nervous about going to a college this size, but my counselor and the rest of the CWE staff were able to turn my nervousness into excitement.

—Bryson Owen, Chickamauga, GA

4.1 Information for student athletes

Student athletes who have been offered an athletic scholarship from Auburn University should contact the Student Athlete Support Services Office to coordinate your CWE visit. This applies only to scholarship athletes. The Student Athlete Support Services Office may be reached at (334) 844-9872.

4.2 Marching Band and Drumline

Marching Band and Drumline auditions for the Auburn University Marching Band (AUMB) are held at different times depending on your role in the band. Auditions for the 2017 Auburn Drumline will take place May 26-28. Potential drumline members should contact Doug Rosener at rosendb@auburn.edu for more information. Brass and woodwind players audition during the AUMB preseason camp, held in August prior to the start of fall classes. Students who want to be in the 2017 AUMB should complete and submit a "Membership Profile/ Intent Form," which can be found at band.auburn.edu. Students cannot receive e-mail updates about the AUMB until the Membership Profile is complete. For other questions regarding Marching Band, contact Corey Spurlin at cspurlin@auburn.edu.

5.1 How do I register for Camp War Eagle?

Please register for Camp War Eagle online at auburn.edu/cwe2017.

Online registration will enable you to view the availability of CWE sessions immediately. Reservations for each session are limited. Once a session date fills to capacity, it is closed. Please do not make travel plans until you have received confirmation from the First Year Experience Office. A confirmation e-mail will be sent immediately after a successful registration, and a confirmation packet will be mailed to your address within a week of your registration. The confirmation packet will include a parking pass and parking instructions, placement test directions, and other information.

5.2 Registration deadlines

Students who do not register for Camp War Eagle by the June 1 deadline are not guaranteed admission to the 2017 freshman class. Students who want to register after the June 1 deadline should check the Camp War Eagle website for information on space availability in the 2017 freshman class.

5.3 What if my plans change?

We appreciate notice of cancellation for CWE. However, the fees charged to your account cannot be refunded. Please notify our office should you decide not to come to CWE. The official notice of withdrawal should be communicated to the Office of Admission Processing by sending an e-mail to decline@auburn.edu with your full name and student number.

5.4 What if I need to change sessions?

Parents and students – please check all schedules and discuss your plans prior to registering for CWE. Session changes are allowed with a $15 fee.

4 STEPS to Making your Camp War Eagle Reservation

1 Activate

Activate your Auburn University User Account at auburn.edu/activate.

You will need your user name and student ID number (also known as your Banner ID number) to enable your account. Both of these pieces of information are in your deposit confirmation letter (sent after you submit the $200 confirmation deposit).

2 AU Access

Log in to AU Access with your Auburn University user account at auaccess.auburn.edu.

4 Confirm

Check your Tigermail account for your confirmation e-mail message at tigermail.auburn.edu.

3 Register

Navigate to the "My Academics" tab, and look for CWE Registration in the Incoming Student section. Be sure to complete all the necessary fields, including your preferred name, which will appear on your nametag. If you are enrolling in summer school at Auburn, please note this in the "Special Circumstances" box.

Registration opens March 20 at 1:00 p.m. CDT.

Sessions fill quickly so register soon.
Registration deadline is June 1.

Need Help?

If you cannot find your user name and ID number and need a duplicate copy of your deposit confirmation letter, call the Office of Admission Processing at (334) 844-6429.

If you have technical difficulties obtaining your password, please call the Information Technology Help Desk at (334) 844-4944.

6.1 How will we get there?

Driving

From 1-85, take Exit 51 and go north into Auburn. Or, traveling east on US 280, turn right on Alabama Highway 147 (College Street). Travel approximately five miles into Auburn.

Air Travel

Commercial air travel is not available in Auburn. The most accessible connection is through Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport, approximately 95 miles northeast of Auburn. Other nearby airports are in Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala., and in Columbus, Ga. If you fly into Atlanta, Groome Transportation offers a shuttle service for transportation to Auburn. Reservations may be made online at auburn.groometransportation.com.

Bus Travel

Bus service (Greyhound/Trailways) is available daily to Opelika, Ala., about 20 minutes from campus. Check with your local bus station. Opelika's bus station is at 300 Columbus Parkway. If you need someone to pick you up from the bus station, call our office at least one week in advance at (334) 844-4501.

6.2 Have I done everything?

- Check your summer plans for dates available for Camp War Eagle and any possible conflicts.
- Register online for CWE at auburn.edu/cwe2017.
- Include on your registration information regarding special accommodations you may need at CWE (i.e., special diet, medical problems, etc.).
- Look for the confirmation letter from CWE and make travel arrangements.
- If you change your major into a different college/school after having signed up for CWE, make sure the new college/school is available at the CWE session for which you are signed up. For example, if you are an engineering major signed up to come to session 4, and you change your major to elementary education, you would need to contact the CWE office, since the College of Education is not participating in session 4.
- If you are enrolling in summer school at Auburn, please note this in the "Special Circumstances" box when you register.
- Provide required medical documentation via Med+Proctor. Information can be found under the Forms and Records tab at auburn.edu/medical.

6.3 I still have questions! Whom do I contact?

Camp War Eagle is a part of the First Year Experience Office at Auburn University. Our contact information is:

Camp War Eagle • 189 Foy Hall • Auburn, AL 36849-5366
(334) 844-4501 • auburn.edu/fye

Students with disabilities are encouraged to notify CWE as early as possible to allow adequate time for accommodations to be made. This includes mobility concerns, dietary needs, health conditions, or communications disorders. Students should also contact the Office of Accessibility at (334) 844-2096 (V/TTY).

Auburn Guides

Camp War Eagle has gone mobile using Auburn Guides. With Auburn Guides, you will be able to plan your session with a personalized schedule and browse sessions, maps, and general CWE info. Auburn Guides also includes resources for Welcome Week, Parent and Family Programs, the AU Career Center, Student Government Association, University Program Council, and more. The app is compatible with iPhones, iPads, iPod Touches, and Android devices. Windows Phone 7 and Blackberry users can access the same information via our mobile site at guidebook.com/app/AUGuides/ to download the app.

First Year Seminars and Learning Communities

First Year Seminars (FYS) and Learning Communities (LCs) are a great way to connect with a small group of peers, engage with helpful campus resources, and develop critical academic skills to be successful at Auburn. Apply to join an LC at auburn.edu/lc or visit auburn.edu/fys to learn about registering for an FYS course.

Auburn Common Book - One Book One Auburn

Auburn University is proud to continue the Common Book - One Book One Auburn program. The 2017 selection is Dave Eggers' The Circle, a dystopian thriller about technology and its influence on history, privacy, and democracy. All incoming, first-year students will receive a copy of the book at Camp War Eagle. The Common Book - One Book One Auburn program promotes a shared academic experience among students and the Auburn community. After reading The Circle over the summer, students will have the opportunity to attend Eggers' keynote speech on September 12. Throughout the 2017-18 academic year, Common Book - One Book One Auburn will partner with the Auburn Public Library, student organizations, university faculty and staff, and the Auburn community at large to offer diverse, interdisciplinary events related to the book's themes. This book will be required reading in First Year Experience classes, and faculty across university departments will incorporate the book into their coursework.
