

Welcome to Auburn

Congratulations on your acceptance to Auburn University. We are excited to help you make a smooth transition into Auburn and to help you reach your academic and career goals. This brochure will help you take your next steps and explain your orientation.

As an incoming transfer student or freshman starting in the spring, you will need to attend Successfully Orienting Students (SOS), which is a one-day orientation program. SOS will help you adjust to Auburn University and prepare for your transition. At SOS, you will meet with your academic advisor in a group setting, participate in small group discussions on college life led by Auburn student leaders, and learn about the university's numerous resources.

Students and families attending SOS get the opportunity to learn about all of the great campus resources Auburn has to offer. You'll be amazed by all of the support the university provides to you as a student!

Your Next Steps:

- 1 Activate your student account.
Go to auburn.edu/activate to set up your account. You will need your username and student ID number. Both pieces of information are in your acceptance letter.
- 2 Submit the enrollment deposit.
Go to auburn.edu/admissions/deposit to submit the non-refundable deposit to guarantee your admission.
- 3 Complete the pre-orientation modules.
Visit aub.ie/transfermodule for more information. The pre-orientation modules will help you complete your transfer plan of study and prepare you to register for classes when your registration time ticket opens in November.

These modules will also help facilitate communication with your academic advisor. At Auburn University, class registration is assigned by specific time tickets based on the number of hours you have completed. For spring semesters, time tickets begin opening in early November. In order to be ready for your time ticket, complete the pre-orientation modules and pay your enrollment deposit by October 15. This will assure your advisor has time to review your information before your time ticket opens. We encourage you to complete the modules as soon as possible because the longer you wait the fewer class options will be available.

It will take time for your advisor to review your information and send your suggested classes after you complete the modules. If you complete the modules after October 15, it may take your advisor longer due to the increased demand during the registration period. We encourage you to complete the modules as soon as possible and allow at least five to seven business days for your advisor to review your information.

- 4 Register for classes.
In order to register for classes, you must have submitted your enrollment deposit and have completed the pre-orientation modules, which includes the transfer plan of study. After your advisor has reviewed the information you have submitted, you will receive suggested classes to take your first semester. More details will be discussed within the pre-orientation modules. Time tickets will open in early November.

You must attend SOS to keep your class schedule.

- 5 Register to attend Successfully Orienting Students.
SOS registration is only available online through your AU Access account. Directions can be found at auburn.edu/sos/registration. You do not have to register for classes before registering for SOS; however it is highly encouraged to complete the modules before attending SOS. Please call First Year Experience at (334) 844-4501 if you have difficulty registering for SOS.

SOS Dates	Term Entering AU	First Day of Class
Friday, November 8, 2019	Spring 2020	January 8, 2020
Monday, January 6, 2020

Auburn University will be closed December 23, 2019 through January 3, 2020.

The deadline to register for SOS is one week prior to the session you wish to attend. Anyone not registered by the deadline must attend a future SOS—no exceptions will be made.

Please refer to the SOS website for the most up-to-date information regarding session dates.

Orientation session details

As soon as you register for SOS, you will receive a confirmation email in your Auburn University Tigermail account. We will also mail a confirmation letter with more details about your session. For the November session, check in is from 7:45-8:30 a.m. and the program concludes by 4 p.m. For the January session, check in is from 11 a.m. – 12 p.m. and the program concludes by 4 p.m. Students should plan to stay the entire time.

Should my family attend the session?

Parents and other guests are also invited to attend SOS. There is a separate program designed specifically for them, and an additional fee of $50 per guest will be charged to your student account. The parent/guest program is for family members interested in learning about Auburn. Incoming Auburn students are the only people permitted to attend the student program. Your friends should not plan to attend SOS with you unless they are also incoming students and registered for that SOS session.

What does SOS cost?

The enrollment deposit holds your spot in the incoming class. This enrollment deposit allows you to attend SOS. Your orientation fees will be charged to your student account. The student fee is $100, and each parent or guest is $50. The orientation fee includes breakfast, lunch and program materials.

Once you sign up for SOS, student and guest fees are charged. They are non-refundable, so be certain before you make your SOS reservations.

After you register for classes, you will receive billing notification for your first semester via the Auburn University eBill system, which allows you to view and pay your bills online. No paper bills will be mailed. The first bills for the spring semester will be generated in mid-November. A minimum of one-half of the tuition, housing and meal plan charges will be due in early December. You must pay at least half of these charges to prevent schedule cancellation. A second bill will be sent in December, with a due date of early January. You are encouraged to add authorized users to your eBill account. These users will be able to view and pay the bills on your behalf.

Students who need accommodations

Please notify our office as early as possible if you or your family members have specific dietary needs, physical limitations or other concerns which may affect your orientation day. We also encourage students to contact the Office of Accessibility at (334) 844-2096 (V/TTY) to register your accommodation needs if applicable.

Attending SOS equips incoming students and their families with the knowledge and information that's essential for success at Auburn. Whether you are nervous or excited, you can find comfort knowing that your Orientation Leader is here to help and welcome you into the Auburn Family!

SOS was a key part of my transfer experience because it allowed me to become acclimated to student life at Auburn by learning from current Auburn students. I really appreciated how they understood that I have been to college before and gave me the information I really needed.

Other important steps:

 Start checking your Tigermail regularly.
Your academic advisor, First Year Experience and other university staff will be contacting you with important information through your Tigermail prior to your SOS session.

 Submit your medical information online.
The AU Medical Clinic uses the Clearwave system to collect your medical information. Look for your unique activation link in Tigermail to set up your account. Go to auburn.edu/medicalform for more information. If you have questions concerning the form, please call the AU Medical Clinic at (334) 844-4416.

 Upload your photo for your Tiger Card (Student ID).
Check out the photo requirements and more information at auburn.edu/tigercard. If your submitted photo is accepted at least three days prior to your SOS session, you can pick up your Tiger Card at your session. If not, you can have your picture taken and pick up your card at the end of the SOS session.

What if my plans change?

If you need to change your major or entry term, it is in your best interest to alert Enrollment Operations at (334) 844-6429 as soon as possible.

If you are no longer able to attend an SOS session, we appreciate notice of cancellation so we can help you reschedule. Please note there is a $15 session change fee and orientation fees are non-refundable once registered.

If you are no longer planning to attend Auburn, your official notice of withdrawal should be communicated to Enrollment Operations by sending an email to decline@auburn.edu with your full name and student number.

Need help?

If you cannot find your user name and ID number and need a duplicate copy of your acceptance letter, call Enrollment Operations at (334) 844-6429.

If you have technical difficulties obtaining your password, call the IT Service Desk at (334) 844-4944.
